<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I know that sometimes people make assumptions about a person because of the way they look or act. I know that there are influences that can affect how we judge a person or situation. I know that some forms of bullying are harder to identify e.g. tactical ignoring, cyber-bullying. I know what to do if I think bullying is, or might be taking place I know the reasons why witnesses sometimes join in with bullying and don't tell anyone. I know that first impressions can change. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I try to accept people for who they are. I can identify influences that have made me think or feel positively/negatively about a situation. I can identify feelings that a bystander might feel in a bullying situation. I can identify reasons why a bystander might join in with bullying. I can revisit the 'Solve it together' technique to practise conflict and bullying scenarios. I can identify my own uniqueness. I am comfortable with the way I look. I can identify when a first impression I had was right or wrong. I am non-judgemental about others who are different. Accepting different disabilities 	Assumption Bystander Cyber bullying Deliberate Influence Judgement Opinion Troll Witness	Something that is accepted as true or certain to happen without any proof. A person who was present at an event or incident, but doesn't take part. The use of electronic communication to bully a person usually sending threatening nature. Something that is done consciously or intentionally. Have an effect on the character, development or behaviour of someone or something. Make a decision or form an opinion. A view on something that isn't always based on fact or knowledge. A person who intentionally leaves offensive messages on the internet in order to get attention, cause trouble or upset someone. A person who sees an event, usually a crime or accident, take place.
