<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I know that there are different perceptions of 'being normal' and where these might come from. I know that being different could affect someone's life. I know that power can play a part in a bullying or conflict situation. I know that people can hold power over others individually or in a group. I know why some people choose to bully others. I know that people with disabilities can lead amazing lives. I know that difference can be a source of celebration as well as conflict.  Para-Olympian	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I can empathise with people who are different and be aware of my own feelings towards them. I can identify feelings associated with being excluded. I can recognise when someone is exerting power negatively in a relationship. I can use a range of strategies when involved in a bullying situation or in situations where difference is a source of conflict. I can identify different feelings of the bully, bullied and bystanders in a bullying scenario. I am able to vocalise my thoughts and feelings about prejudice and discrimination and why it happens. I appreciate people for who they are. I can show empathy.  Being excluded	Bullying Disability Diversity Empathy Gender diversity Harassment Medication Para - Olympian Perception Transgender	Regular hitting or frightening someone who is seen as weaker. A physical or mental condition that limits a persons movements, senses or activities. Recognising each individual is unique The ability to understand and share the feelings of others. A term used to describe different gender identities. Behaviour that makes you feel intimidated or humiliated. A drug or other form of medicine used to treat or prevent disease. A person who competes in international sporting events. The way in which something is interpreted. A person whose sense of gender doesn't correspond with their birth gender.
